Re: Draft Principles of Professionalism in Pharmacy Practice

Professionalism is a fundamental component in the delivery of quality healthcare. Recognizing the importance of a strong culture of professionalism, the National Association of Pharmacy Regulatory Authorities (NAPRA), along with pharmacy professionals and pharmacy stakeholders from across the country, have developed draft principles of professionalism. These principles, applicable to all who work and contribute to the profession of pharmacy, represent the first steps towards enhancing the culture of professionalism in pharmacy practice. A comprehensive paper on the topic of the culture of professionalism in pharmacy has been written and is available for background reading. More information can also be found on the NAPRA website at <https://napra.ca/news-notice/public-consultation-principles-professionalism>

The NAPRA Culture of Professionalism Working Group invites all pharmacy professionals, pharmacy stakeholders, and members of the public to provide feedback on the draft Principles of Professionalism, using this link. We also invite you to assist us by sharing this information and these documents as widely as possible.

The consultation process will be open between June 4, 2021 and August 3, 2021.

We sincerely appreciate your input on this important topic and thank you in advance for taking the time to provide feedback. Should you have any further questions or concerns regarding this matter, please contact us via email at professionalism@napra.ca

Sincerely,
